WHOLESALE PROGRAM

Pet Emergency Education sells a variety of retail items on its website such as pet first aid kits, respiratory masks, etc. Many of our class participants purchase these items with their registration. Some smaller flat items such as books, masks, thermal blankets, and decals, we will ship to you to hand out in class. These items will be in your package with your cards and certificates. Other larger items such as pet first aid kits, t-shirts, bowls and thermometers will be shipped directly to the participant at the address they provide to us in their registration form.

If someone purchased a retail item you will see the item listed next to their name on the roster. You will hand them their item when they sign in. MAKE SURE YOU HAVE THE PERSON INITIAL NEXT TO THE ITEM THAT THEY RECEIVED IT. If the item is listed in parenthesis, it means that we shipped the item to the person already. Anything else you should have and are to give it to them. The only exception to all this is late and walk in registrations. Anyone who registered late or the day of the class will not have any of their materials at the class. This includes cards and certificates. Everything will be mailed to these people after you turn in the roster to us. If anyone asks you when will they receive any of their missing materials tell them that we mail the items out within a few days after the instructor gives us their signed, completed roster.

Instructors will be able to purchase first aid supplies to sell at their classes for a profit. Items can be purchased from our company for wholesale prices and then resold at the class and the instructor keeps the profit. ONLY Pet Emergency Education retail items are allowed to be sold at classes.
